

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

NEW JUSTICE PROGRAM

ANTICORRUPTION EDUCATION FOR LAW STUDENTS
INTERNATIONAL ACADEMIC WORKSHOP
STRENGTHENING THE ACADEMIA'S CAPACITY TO PROVIDE QUALITY ANTI-CORRUPTION
EDUCATION AND DEVELOP ANTI-CORRUPTION COOPERATION IN UKRAINE

April 13 – 14, 2017

Final Resolution and Action Plan

Participants who took part in this International Academic Workshop:

Recommend that Ukrainian Law Schools consider the possibility of implementing the Honor System, or similar mechanism, that was introduced by Washington & Lee University School of Law (USA).

Recommend that Ukrainian Law Schools enact a comprehensive approach to the legal study of anti-corruption including case studies, simulations, moot courts, etc.

Recommend developing and/or building partnerships with willing institutions and other stakeholders (International donors, NGOs, government authorities, private sector entities, etc.) in order to promote anti-corruption education, research and other academic and social efforts.

Recommend implementation of projects that were proposed by the students of participating Ukrainian Law Schools, and then exchange the experiences for further development and implementation in other Law Schools.

Recommend enhancing partnerships between W&L Law School and other foreign law schools, with Ukrainian Law Schools on anti-corruption issues, in particular to improve online international anti-corruption courses and promote anti-corruption education in Ukraine.

Recommend sharing articles, case studies, presentations and other informational resources between participating law schools which are used in the national component of the online international anti-corruption courses.

Recommend that the Ministry of Education and Science of Ukraine and the Ministry of Justice of Ukraine facilitate the Ukrainian Law Schools in developing, in the near future, a plan for establishing a national platform for exchange of domestic and international experiences and knowledge for the continuing development of anti-corruption courses.

Acknowledge and Thank the USAID New Justice Program for its significant support in the development of the Ukrainian anti-corruption law courses, and;

Recommend and Request that USAID continue to support the Yaroslav Mudryi National Law University, The Ukrainian Catholic University Law School, National University "Odesa Law Academy", Yuri Fedkovych Law School, and W&L Law School, in particular with consulting and supporting the implementation of the above mentioned recommendations.